DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: Reference character 25 is not shown in the drawings. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
2. The drawings are objected to because the language accompanying the drawing should be removed. Typically the drawings consist of the figures and reference characters, not descriptive language. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 6 applicant refers to figure 14. There is no figure 14 in the drawings.

Appropriate correction is required.

4. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Art Unit: 1744

5. Misnumbered claims 13 (second occurrence)-22 been renumbered 14-23. There were two claim 13's originally filed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

8. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

9. Regarding claims 1 and 13 (first occurrence), the word "means" is preceded by the word(s) "telescoping handle" and "brush" in an attempt to use a "means" clause to recite a claim element as a means for performing a specified function. However, since no function is specified by the word(s) preceding "means," it is impossible to determine the equivalents of the element, as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. See Ex parte Klumb, 159 USPQ 694 (Bd. App. 1967).

10. With respect to claim 15 (renumbered), claim 15, which depends on claim 12, recites the wash pad secured to the pad backing by hook and loop elements. This is also recited in claim 9 upon which claim 12 depends. This makes claim 15 a dual inclusion of subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1744

12. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

13. Claims 1, 4, 6 and 13 (first occurrence) rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arispe in view of Ramrattan.

14. The patent to Arispe discloses a telescoping handle 32-36 having first and second ends, means for maintaining the handle in a fully extended position (friction) and in the collapsed position, brush means having a base member 30 secured to one end of the handle means and a wash pad 42 secured to the base member. Arispe also discloses a brush carrier 14,16 of a size to receive and enclose the handle and the brush when the handle is in the collapsed position. Arispe does not disclose the wash pad releasably secured to the base member. The patent to Ramrattan discloses a similar device to that of Arispe and has a pad 16 releasably secured to a base member 12 by means of hook and loop fastener. It would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute a hook and loop fastening means for the adhesive fastening means of Arispe in view of the teaching of Ramrattan in order to remove the pad when it is worn or soiled.

Art Unit: 1744

Allowable Subject Matter

15. Claims 2,3, 5, 7-12 and 14-23, as best understood, would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

16. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Cervený, Penn, Paepke, Freeman and Varga show the current state of the art.
